

Wholesale Payment Terms

Version 1.0 · Effective September 15, 2026 · All Outcast Acres wholesale orders

Payment works the same way for every account. One price for everyone, two ways to pay, and 10 percent off when you order COD and pay right away. The COD discount is the only price adjustment we offer.

TWO WAYS TO PAY

TERMS	INVOICED AT	PAYMENT IN FULL
Net 30	List price	Within 30 calendar days of delivery
COD	10% off the invoice total	Within 2 business days of delivery

Terms are set when you place the order, and your invoice reflects them. A COD order is invoiced at the discounted total, so the amount on the invoice is the amount you pay. The COD window closes at the end of the second business day after delivery and is measured by when funds land, not when a payment is sent.

If full payment hasn't landed by then, we replace the COD invoice with a new Net 30 invoice at list price. The new invoice is due 30 calendar days from the original delivery date, not from the date it was issued, and anything you already paid is credited against it.

HOW TO PAY

- ACH or wire initiated directly through your licensed business's own bank.
- Business check drawn on your licensed business's own account. No post-dated or third-party checks.
- Cash at delivery.

Please put your invoice number in the payment memo so we can match it the same day. A check or ACH that comes back unpaid does not count as payment.

WHAT WE CAN'T ACCEPT

We only accept payments that come straight from your bank. Payments routed through a third party will be returned, even when they arrive as an ACH. That includes payment processors, bill-pay services, invoice payment links, payment apps, and the payment features built into accounting or invoicing software. These services restrict cannabis transactions and can hold or reverse funds, which leaves your invoice unpaid and both of us waiting. If your team tracks bills in accounting software, record the payment there and send it from your bank. A returned payment does not count as payment, and the invoice keeps its original due date.

PROTECTING BOTH OF US

We provide our banking details directly and will never change them by email alone. If you ever receive a message saying our account has changed, call us at 518-217-8834 before sending anything.

NEW YORK CREDIT RULES

If a Net 30 invoice goes unpaid past its due date, state rules require us to send a written default notice and report it to OCM within 7 calendar days, which can place the retailer on OCM's C.O.D. list. We cannot extend credit to a license on that list, and that includes the 2 business day COD window. For those accounts, payment has to be in hand at delivery: cash, a business check, or an ACH or wire that has landed before we deliver. If something comes up with a payment, call us early. We would much rather sort it out on the phone.
